The Rising of the Women:
Organizing for Bread and Roses Today
Resources for Activism

An online version of this guide can be found at http://libguides.rutgers.edu/UALEwomen/

Compiled by Donna L. Schulman, Director, Carey Library, dschulman@work.rutgers.edu
With assistance from Cathryn Miller, SCI Graduate Student
School of Management and Labor Relations, Rutgers University
Summer School is just the beginning. Here are resources you can use to learn more about the labor movement and to expand your activist’s “tool kit”. It is a selected list; use it as a starting point to browse and explore. Web sites are listed within each section.

Most of the books and films listed are still in print; they can be ordered through the Internet (Powell’s City of Books is a union-friendly site: http://www.powells.com) or from one of the specialized sources listed in the back. Or hopefully they can be found in your local public, union, or extension school library. If not, request them!

An online version of this guide can be found at http://libguides.rutgers.edu/UALEwomen/

TABLE OF CONTENTS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>section</th>
<th>sub-section</th>
<th>page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>BOOKS &amp; WEB SITES</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Labor Union Facts &amp; Figures &amp; Research</td>
<td>3</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bargaining &amp; Organizing In The Workplace</td>
<td>6</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Children’s Literature – Labor</td>
<td>9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Global Economy, Global Unions</td>
<td>12</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Labor Studies</td>
<td>14</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Labor Education</td>
<td>16</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Labor Law</td>
<td>17</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Politics &amp; Economics (mostly U.S.)</td>
<td>18</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Research Skills</td>
<td>19</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Safety &amp; Health</td>
<td>22</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Union Skills</td>
<td>24</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women Workers Today – (Mostly U.S. &amp; Canada)</td>
<td>25</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women’s Labor History</td>
<td>27</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women’s Labor History - Biography</td>
<td>29</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bread and Roses Strike, Lawrence 1912</td>
<td>31</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Young Workers</td>
<td>36</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>JOURNALS &amp; NEWSLETTERS</td>
<td></td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MUSIC</td>
<td>38</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FILMS &amp; VIDEOS</td>
<td>40</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ORDERING INFORMATION &amp; SOURCES</td>
<td>43</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
LABOR UNION FACTS & FIGURES & BOOKS

Not comprehensive, but a fun and useful resource, especially for union newsletters and speechwriting.

Concise definitions and historical background for 300 words, phrases, and acronyms frequently used in the labor world.

Addresses, telephone numbers, names of major officers of major U.S. unions, state federations, and listings of locals by state (but minus addresses & phone numbers). Statistical appendix includes BLS & AFL-CIO membership data.

A good reference book for your public or school library.

An inexpensive all-in-one labor reference book.

WEB SITES - ACADEMIC STARTING POINTS

LABOR RESEARCH PORTAL (UC Berkeley, Institute for Research on Labor and Employment Library)
http://www.irle.berkeley.edu/library/?page=4
The IIR Library has Labor and Web Guides to online & print resources related to globalization, immigration, labor culture, and U.S. unions.

INTERNET RESOURCE GATEWAY: JOHN F. HENNING CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS (UC Berkeley, Labor Center)
http://www.iir.berkeley.edu/henningcenter/gateway/index.html
This website contains links to organizations, articles, position papers, and training materials on labor and the global economy.

RESEARCH PORTAL: CATHERWOOD LIBRARY (ILR School, Cornell University)
http://www.ilr.cornell.edu/library/research/
The Catherwood Library, the research library of the ILR School, has a number of academic-oriented research guides available here, plus “Best of the Web” guides for working people.
LABOR UNIONS AND THE INTERNET
[http://guides.library.cornell.edu/laborunionsandtheinternet]
This website contains an extensive collection of web sites related to collective bargaining, labor law, and other labor topics, originally written by the author (Donna), updated by Catherwood librarians.

CAREY LIBRARY (School of Management and Labor Relations, Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey)
[http://smlr.rutgers.edu/carey-library]
[http://smlr.rutgers.edu/carey-library/research-guides]
Online information guides on collective bargaining, organizing, minorities in the workplace, labor studies, women and work, and more, developed by the author (Donna).

WEB SITES – STATISTICAL STARTING POINTS

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR: FIND IT BY TOPIC
[http://www.dol.gov/dol/topic/index.htm]
The DOL offers a vast amount of information on its web site, including employment statistics, the full text and explanations of employment labor laws and regulations, and publications such as the Occupational Outlook Handbook and the Monthly Labor Review. This topic listing is one way of locating what you need.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR: FIND IT BY AUDIENCE
[http://www.dol.gov/dol/audience/aud-women.htm]
[http://www.dol.gov/dol/audience/aud-labor.htm]
And, another way to find DOL information is to use these portal web sites for women and labor unions.

U.S. BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS
[http://www.bls.gov/]
BLS is the part of the DOL responsible for collecting and publishing statistics about labor and employment. Starting here, you can find data on the labor force, unemployment, inflation, wages & earnings, plus online publications such as the Occupational Outlook Handbook and the Monthly Labor Review.

U.S. BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS: UNION MEMBERSHIP
This annual publication tracks labor union membership.

UNIONSTATS.COM: Union Membership and Coverage Database
[http://www.unionstats.com/]
This Internet data resource provides “private and public sector union membership, coverage, and density estimates compiled from the Current Population Survey (CPS) using BLS methods”; it is updated annually.
WEB SITES – UNION & UNION-RELATED STARTING POINTS

AFL-CIO
http://www.aflcio.org

CHANGE TO WIN
http://www.changetowin.org/

XPDNC LABOUR DIRECTORY
http://www.xpdnc.com/
A labor directory to labor union web sites plus sites on labor-related topics (campaigns, research, politics, women, and work).

LABOURSTART
http://www.labourstart.org
Labor news from around the world.

BIG LABOR
http://www.unionist.com/big-labor
Created by Union Communications Services, this site offers extensive links to U.S. union web sites, plus a weekly labor cartoon, song, quote, book, steward tip, & today in labor history.

UNION JOBS CLEARINGHOUSE
http://www.unionjobs.com

A report summarizing the discussion and recommendations of a retreat of women union organizers.

A nuts-and-bolts handbook.

A compilation of the "common law" of labor arbitration; gives summaries of actual cases and analyses of trends in such areas as discipline & discharge, union rights, strikes, and sexual harassment.

The "comprehensive manual for grassroots organizers."[available from USC and Amazon.]

These articles by union & academic researchers present new frameworks and strategies for organizing; topics include strategic initiatives, community-based organizing, building membership, and public support.

Based on interviews, this report analyzes obstacles union women face and strategies unions could use to encourage women's involvement and leadership.

Janice Fine, a former organizer herself, studies the role worker centers play in organizing and assisting low-wage and immigrant workers. Janice has taught at our Rutgers schools.

This book is pricey, but may be a purchasing consideration by your union because of its comprehensive approach.

Designed for union leaders, activists, negotiating teams and organizers, this step-by-step guide provides the tools needed to advance a successful work and family agenda. Order a free copy from web site: http://www.working-families.org/publications/

Answers basic questions about unions and what they do: structure of the labor movement, the grievance process, core labor laws, and more. Good resource for new members or basic reference for officers & staff. Order from website: http://www.unionist.com/

Case studies of organizing campaigns in four industries with some surprising conclusions.

These 11 articles on union, community-based and advocacy campaigns in the Los Angeles area offer best practices that apply to all efforts to organize low-wage workers in the U.S.

Case studies by activists who have grappled with participation programs, strategies and tactics based on their experiences. Order from website: http://labornotes.org/workingsmart

Hands-on advice on handling grievances and workplace concerns. http://www.unionist.com/

This well-known workers’ guide to organizing has been totally updated and rewritten. Its chapters are based on the experiences of over 250 activists. New material is on the website http://troubemakershandbook.org/ the book can be ordered there as well.
Lessons learned from women-focused organizing campaigns.

WEBSITES:

BERGER-MARKS FOUNDATION
http://www.bergermarks.org
The Berger-Marks Foundation seeks “to bring the benefits of unionization to working women and to assist organizations committed to those principles.” Their web site presents reports on their activities and conferences and information on how women organizers can apply for grants.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING FAQ’S (Univ. of Hawaii, Center for Labor Education and Research)
http://homepages.uhwo.hawaii.edu/~clear/CB-FAQ.html
Collective bargaining basics.

FACTS @ YOUR FINGERTIPS: AN INTERNET RESEARCH GUIDE FOR UNION ACTIVISTS – COLLECTIVE BARGAINING
http://www.afscme.org/members/1254.cfm

MIDWEST ACADEMY
http://www.midwestacademy.com/
This well-known organization conducts trainings on organizing for social change.

STRATEGIC ORGANIZING
http://www.union-organizing.org/
This new web site offers ideas for organizing strategies and tactics, focusing on communication via leaflets, videos, and the Internet. You can follow it on Facebook and Twitter.

XPDNC: ORGANIZING DRIVE LINKS
http://www.xpdnc.com/links/orgdrive.html
Links to websites of active workplace organizing campaigns around the world.

WIEGO: WOMEN IN INFORMAL EMPLOYMENT: GLOBALIZING AND ORGANIZING
http://www.wiego.org/index.php
WIEGO is a global network of membership-based organizations of informal workers, researchers, professionals from development agencies; over 300 resources for informal workers (studies, fact sheets, videos, handbooks) are available through this web site.

NATIONAL CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IN HIGHER EDUCATION AND THE PROFESSIONS
http://www.hunter.cuny.edu/ncscbhec/
Part of Hunter College, CUNY, the center is a clearinghouse for the study and practice of collective bargaining in colleges and universities.

LABOR CONTRACTS DATABASE (UC Berkeley)
http://www.iir.berkeley.edu/library/contracts/
CHILDREN’S LITERATURE—LABOR

Cronin, Doreen and Betsy Lewin. Click, Clack, Moo: Cows That Type. NY: Simon & Schuster, 2000. Farmer Brown’s cows become literate and then strike for better working conditions; a funny tale that actually appeals to adults more than children. Also available as a DVD from Scholastic.

Ella Jenkins and a Union of Friends Pulling Together (CD/audiotape). Smithsonian Folkways, 1999. [Available from Labor Heritage Foundation] “Designed to open a wider concept of being part of a union” to young children through a variety of songs, rhymes, and stories, this recording is gentle and welcoming in the Ella Jenkins tradition.

Hoose, Philip. We Were There Too! Young People in U.S. History. N.Y.: Farrar, Straus & Giroux, 2001. Brief biographies of young people who were active participants in historical events and social movements. Include our own Jessica Govea, who as a teenager was a founding member of the United Farm Workers.

Kraft, Betsey Harvey. Mother Jones: One Woman’s Fight for Labor. N.Y.: Clarion Books, 1995. YA (young adult) biography of the radical labor organizer who believed one should “Pray for the dead and fight like hell for the living”.

2012
The story of this classic labor song, written in 1931 by Florence Reece, of a coal miner’s family, told through the eyes of Florence’s daughter.

Recounts the everyday life of ten-year old Rebecca Putney who lives in a boarding house and works in a cotton mill. Is Rebecca brave enough to join a protest against a pay cut? Beautifully illustrated.

A young girl goes to work in the mills of Lowell, Massachusetts, hoping to save enough money to reunite her family; for young adults. Paterson is a popular, award-winning young adult author.

The biography of an influential labor and civil rights leader who worked tirelessly in the struggle for basic rights in the workplace and in society for African Americans.
THE GLOBAL ECONOMY, GLOBAL UNIONS

Using charts, tables, and cartoons, this book aims to make “the international economy comprehensible for everyone and reveals the harmful effects of corporate-driven globalization”.

Study of two factories owned by the same tortilla company, one on the U.S. side of the border, one in Mexico.

How do unions deal with multinational corporations? These articles, the outgrowth of a groundbreaking conference of unionists and researchers from around the world, discuss innovative strategies unions are using in the new global economy. An excerpt from this book is available from the ILR Digital Commons: [http://digitalcommons.ilr.cornell.edu/books/33/]

Clear explanations in under 150 pages.

In telling the story of Dukes v. Wal-Mart, the largest class-action discrimination lawsuit in history, Featherstone also reveals how the Wal-Mart culture systematically devalues and underpays the women of their workforce.

An explanation of how economic globalization has concentrated power in global corporations, with devastating results for people and the environment.

Louie, an activist and organizer, tells the stories of Chinese, Mexican, and Korean women workers who have organized for change in transnational sweatshops and in the home.

The author worked for 9 months as a machine operator in a Mexican garment factory, enabling her to interview and witness events leading up to a female-led strike and its aftermath.

These articles provide a primer on issues including “trade and financial institutions, work in the global economy, international debt, and global environmental, health, and resource issues.”

This publication “explores the impact of free trade on women workers” in Central America and the U.S. in their own words. These are the stories of women organizing in the garment, agricultural, and health care industries. (English & Spanish). [Order directly from STITCH: http://www.stitchonline.org/documentation.asp]

WEBSITES:

CORPWATCH

http://www.corpwatch.org/index.php

A collection of news, commentary, and research tutorials on corporate accountability issues globally.

GLOBAL WOMEN'S ACTIVISM: SELECTED SITES (Rutgers University)

http://libguides.rutgers.edu/global_women

Links to organizations and online resources “devoted to worldwide women's activism”.

INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LABOR RELATIONS (SMLR LIBGUIDE)

URL: http://libguides.rutgers.edu/international

This guide to information sources was developed for Rutgers students, but it includes many website on globalization, corporate accountability and international labor that can be used by anybody.

INTERNATIONAL LABOUR ORGANIZATION (ILO)

This is an enormous web site, containing a wealth of publications, databases, and documents on working standards, conditions, and programs around the world. One place to start is the Topics section, where you can look up information on domestic workers, gender equality, informal economy, etc.

SOLIDARITY CENTER

The AFL-CIO started the American Center for International Labor Solidarity in 1997 to assist workers around the world. A number of publications on the struggle for workers’ rights in individual countries can be found in the Publications section.

Essays and reports by academics and workers who were there.

Clark, a labor professor at Penn State, offers strategies on how unions can utilize recent social science research in a number of areas, including leadership, organizing, and union culture.

A critique of the labor movement.

Using HERE, Hotel Employees and Restaurant Employees, as an example, Getman argues that innovative organizing strategies and a strong commitment to rank-and-file membership are vital to labor’s resurgence.

One of several books published this year on the future of the labor movement after Wisconsin and during the Occupy movement. Authors include Ruth Milkman, Dana Frank, and Frances Fox Piven.

Articles on the continuing challenges faced by gay and lesbian workers on the job. Kitty Krupat is a member of the NE Women Summer School planning committee.

“Statistical, historical, legal and public policy analyses that highlight the possibilities and challenges confronting the labor movement as well as the special concerns of African Americans.”

A thought provoking study of two different organizing drives that argues for continuing worker involvement during and after the campaign.

Recent research and analyses of recent labor organizing campaigns, including Justice for Janitors, Union Summer, plus studies of the people who do the organizing—organizers and union leaders.

Blogs and Websites On the Labor Movement

AFL-CIO Now

Articles from a group of AFL-CIO writers on political, economic, and labor events and trends.

AFSCME Blog

http://www.afscme.org/blog

Edwize: Education News and Opinion (AFT)

http://www.edwize.org

Blogging on NYC schools since 2005.

Interfaith Worker Justice

http://www.iwj.org/blog

Labor’s Edge, California Labor Federation

“Views from the California Labor Movement”; good articles on a variety of subjects.

Union Review

An “interactive publication of labor-related news and views” featuring links to local and national news articles and union web sites.

Wisconsin State AFL-CIO Blog

For additional blogs, see the sidebars of the AFL-CIO and California Labor Federation’s blogs.
Burke, Bev, et al. Education for Changing Unions. Toronto: Between the Lines Productions, 2003. Applying the principles of popular education to labor unions, the authors discuss the job of union educator, designing effective education programs, and “our favorite union education activities”. [available in U.S. through Highlander bookstore]

Highlander Research and Education Center
This popular education and research organization collects and produces resource materials for popular educators and organizers, and sponsors popular education programs at its home in Tennessee. See the Bookstore section for books and videos by them and other similar grassroots organizations.

Workshops on Work & Wages, Public Education & Movement Building, plus facilitation tips, group guidelines.

UALE (United Association For Labor Education)
UALE is the professional association of university and union labor educators. In addition to information on its conferences, this is where you can find out about the regional women’s union summer institutes, the Labor Studies Journal, and position announcements in the field. For resources on labor and popular education, see the Resources section plus conference materials in the Conferences section. For lists of university/college labor programs, see Member Lists and non-members in the Weblinks section.

How to put together training and education programs for union women. Written by labor educators, many of whom have been involved in summer schools past and present.

WILD: Women’s Institute for Leadership Development (MA)
If you are from Massachusetts, you need to know about WILD.

Zinn Education Project: Teaching a People’s History
http://zinnedproject.org/posts/category/explore_by_theme/labor
Resources and lesson plans for teaching a “people’s history” to middle and high school students.
The resources below are not a substitute for consulting with an attorney, but they will give you background and an idea of how our legal system works when it comes to union and workers’ rights. The law is constantly changing, make sure whatever sources you use are up-to-date and written by experts in the field.

This popular guide focuses on working (not executive) women, using real-life stories to illustrate what sexual harassment is and the most effective ways to prevent or fight it. [Order from CLUW or UCS]

Text on labor law written from a labor, rather than management, perspective.

Useful, inexpensive, packed with information on your rights as a worker and a union member in a question-and-answer format.

Nolo Press is known for its easy-to-use legal guides. This recent edition covers all aspects of employment law.

See author’s website for order info & chapter one online: http://www.workrightspress.com/index.html

Readable, informative, written for workers, grounded in a union perspective.
WEBSITES:

LEGAL INFORMATION INSTITUTE
http://www.law.cornell.edu
This site serves as both a directory to U.S. laws & court decisions and a source for brief explanations of legal subject areas. A good source for the full text of US Supreme Court decisions.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
http://www.dol.gov
A huge web site, check here for laws and regulations (original language and summaries), forms, contacts for DOL divisions, full text of DOL publications.

ELAWS: DOL EMPLOYMENT WORKPLACE LAWS
http://www.dol.gov/elaws

U.S. NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD
http://www.nlrb.gov
Full-text of most NLRB publications, explanations of the National Labor Relations Act, full-text of NLRB decisions back (as of this writing) to 1979.

PUBLIC SECTOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING LAWS
http://www.afscmestaff.org/LaborLinks/ll-cb-bargaininglaws.htm

State Labor & Employment Legislation
Collective bargaining laws for public sector workers, wage & hours laws, unemployment and worker’s compensation laws, and laws governing a number of other employee rights areas such as whistleblowing are State Laws. For the text of these laws and the regulations that enforce them, check the labor department of your state government web site.

The State of Working America http://stateofworkingamerica.org/ This outstanding publication, formerly available every two years in print format, is now offered online from its parent organization, the Economic Policy Institute. Demographic data and economic indicators are analyzed, resulting in eye-opening graphs and charts on income, wages, jobs, unemployment, wealth, and poverty. (There will be another print volume in January 2013.)

WEBSITES:

USA.GOV
http://usa.gov
A portal for U.S. government information; go here first if you’re not sure where to search.

THOMAS
http://thomas.loc.gov
The web site of Congress, check here for bills, laws, committee reports, and anything related to the work of the House of Representatives or the Senate.

PROJECT VOTE SMART
http://www.vote-smart.org
This non-profit organization is dedicated to providing information on political candidates.

FACTCHECK.ORG
This nonpartisan ‘consumer advocate’ for voters aims to reduce the level of deception and confusion in U.S. politics by monitoring the factual accuracy of what is said by major U.S. political players.

OPEN SECRETS
http://www.opensecrets.org
Detailed information on PAC and individual campaign fund contributions.

ECONOMIC POLICY INSTITUTE
http://epinet.org/
Briefings and reports on economic issues such as minimum wage, trade policies, employment trends.
EMPLOYMENT POLICY RESEARCH NETWORK (EPRN)
[http://www.employmentpolicy.org/]
Sponsored by the Labor and Employment Research Association, EPRN offers policy papers based on “evidence-based research and experience.”

CENTER FOR AMERICAN WOMEN AND POLITICS (Eagleton Institute)
[http://www.cawp.rutgers.edu/fast_facts/index.php]
Factsheets and research on women office holders in the U.S.

INSTITUTE FOR WOMEN’S POLICY RESEARCH
[http://www.iwpr.org/]
IWPR conducts research on women and employment, work and families, and related issues. Many of their reports can be downloaded free from their web site.

NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT LAW PROJECT (NELP)
[http://www.nelp.org/]
An advocacy organization that promotes progressive public policies via research and publication. See web site for reports on labor standards, living wage, immigration, and workforce development.

Basch and Bates are leaders in the online research field.

Competitive intelligence techniques and sources.

A guide for research professionals; even if you think you know it all, you will learn something.

WEBSITES:

HOW TO DO CORPORATE RESEARCH

http://www.corp-research.org/howto

Comprehensive guide from Phil Mattera’s Corporate Research Project, developed for activists.

FACTS@YOUR FINGERTIPS: AN INTERNET RESEARCH MANUAL FOR AFSCME ACTIVISTS

One of the best research guides on the web, not just for AFSCME members.

THE INTERNET PUBLIC LIBRARY

http://ipl.org

Quick guide to online reference books.

REFDESK

http://www.refdesk.com

Fast facts, figures, definitions, the web site you’ll wonder how you ever did without.

SEARCH ENGINES & DIRECTORIES:

GOOGLE / GOOGLE ADVANCED SEARCH

http://www.google.com

http://www.google.com/advanced_search

Try the Advanced Search page. It’s easy to use and can be very helpful in narrowing down your search.

GOOGLE SCHOLAR

Locates online academic materials (research papers, scholarly articles, etc.).
Hints for Using Search Engines:

- If possible, use unique terms.
- Identify phrases by using quotation marks
  - example: “chocolate turtles” instead of chocolate turtles
- If you don’t get any results, think of synonyms
  - example: “medical care” or “health care”
- If you get too many results, explore the advanced features of the search engine
  - Can you search by key word in title?
  - Can you limit the date?
  - Can you limit the domain (.edu, .org)?
- Use credible web sites, by recognizable authors or organizations.

Remember that not everything is on the Internet! If you can’t find anything after using the above hints, try the print resources or online databases available through public libraries and local colleges.

AFT Health & Safety Fact Sheets: http://www.aft.org/issues/healthsafety/workplace/factsheets.cfm

CDC, Women's Safety and Health Issue at Work. http://www.cdc.gov/niosh/topics/women/

Easy-to-use guide to preventing and alleviating RSI (repetitive stress injury) symptoms. Many stretches and exercises for neck, back, shoulders, even face.

CLUW Center for Research and Education. Health Fact Sheets on topics such as menopause and osteoporosis can be downloaded from their web site: http://www.cluw.org/publications.html

HealthyWomen
HealthyWomen Community
http://community.healthywomen.org/
CLUW is supporting this new initiative, a place where women can find independent expert information about health issues and discuss them.

Sample contract language from actual contracts on such topics as worker information and training, specific hazards, right to act, joint labor-management activities, protective measures, injured workers.

Includes tools for winning safety improvements, examples of successful health and safety campaigns, and strategies for workplace advocacy.

See the following Internet sites for additional occupational safety & health publications:

In addition to above, LOHP offers books and training guides for union workers on hospital hazards, cosmetology health & safety, computer workstation health & safety, violence on the job and more;
many publications are bi-lingual, some are online only (& free!).

National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health
http://www.cdc.gov/niosh/homepage.html
A wealth of online information sheets, studies, training materials, AV materials on all OSH aspects, including reproductive health, stress, health care workers. Also provides a gateway to health and medical databases of articles and chemical information.

New York Committee for Occupational Safety and Health (NYCOSH)
http://www.nycosh.org
In addition to current news & data, NYCOSH has an excellent collection of links to online resources in the areas of industry and workplace hazards.

National Council for Occupational Safety and Health:

Materiales y Informacion en español,http://www.coshnetwork.org/node/16

Materials in Other Languages,http://www.coshnetwork.org/node/197

Links to curricula and workbooks from a variety of organizations.

Written with political elections in mind (the “local” is geographic), some of these how-to’s can be applied to running for union election or to support a labor-friendly candidate. This is a very elementary book, best for political beginners in small cities or towns.

Public speaking tips; nervousness, voice, what to do with your hands.

All About Motions. Robert McConnell Productions, 1996. video, 1 hr, 40 min., 2 vol.

How to generate news coverage for your union, updated to include online news sites.

“A practical manual for doing the kind of newswriting that doesn’t just get people angry, but active—that doesn’t just inform, but inspires.”

For beginners to parliamentary procedure; a more advanced book will be needed for more advanced meetings.

| Good to know: The original 1916 Robert’s Rules of Order is available free on the web: http://www.bartleby.com/176/ | 6. Stating the Question. When a motion has been made and seconded, it is the duty of the chair, unless he rules it out of order, immediately to state the question — that is, state the exact question that is before the assembly for its consideration and action.... |

2012
WOMEN WORKERS TODAY—(MOSTLY US. & CANADA)

Activist and feminist struggles in the Canadian labour world.

A collection of articles that explore “how the sex of workers matters in understanding the jobs they do, the problems they fact at work, and the new labor movements they are creating.” Authors include Ruth Milkmam, Katie Quan, Janice Fine, and Karen Nussbaum.

Over 30 articles on leadership, organizing, homework, temporary and part-time work, meeting family needs, and the wage gap.

Sponsored by the Women’s Research and Education Institute, a collection of essays on women’s leadership status in several fields, including Lois Gray’s article on women’s leadership in labor unions.

Investigative journalist Ehrenreich tries to make ends meet as a waitress, cleaning person, and salesperson; written with intelligence and clarity, this is an excellent, very readable book.

Eisenberg, Susan. We’ll Call You If We Need You: Experiences of Women Working Construction. Ithaca: ILR Press, 1998.
The experiences of 30 women who entered the construction industry during the past 20 years, and found endless challenge, collected by a master electrician/poet.

Case studies examining the experiences of union feminists in various contexts, both American and international. Includes such topics as wages and equity, child care, work-life balance, and LGBT issues.

A collection of articles exploring the history and meaning or work for black women.

In this exciting book, LaTour traces the struggles and triumphs of the women who broke into the skilled trades in NYC. You will probably see at least one familiar name here, and certainly identify with their stories.

The stories of women who immigrated to the U.S. from China, Japan, Korea, Vietnam, Laos, India and Pakistan; the women talk about their experiences in a new culture, with their families, and in the workplace.

Historical, statistical, sociological articles on women workers in Puerto Rico and the U.S. mainland.

A study of CLUW, based on the author’s dissertation. Scholarly, the book contains very little about the regional summer schools, though Silke did attend a Northeast school at UConn.

WEB SITES:

COALITION OF LABOR UNION WOMEN (CLUW)

FEMINIST MAJORITY FOUNDATION

NON-TRADITIONAL EMPLOYMENT FOR WOMEN (NEW)

U.S. WOMEN’S BUREAU

U.S. WOMEN’S BUREAU PUBLICATIONS include:
Women in the Labor Force: A Databook (2011 ed.):
These titles are a starting point. For a more complete list, see the Tamiment Library's online guide to Women's History Resources in the Tamiment Library:
http://nyu.libguides.com/tamiment_womens_history

Revised to include more on Native American, African American, Hispanic, Asian American women, rural labor, current issues.

Well-reviewed, recent history of the U.S. labor movement.

A comprehensive history of women and trade unions in the U.S. Two editions are available: the original 2-volume edition, and a condensed 1-volume version.

Jones explores the history of labor through the lens of politics and economics that determined in different times what occupations were suitable for which group of individuals.

Jones wrote this book in response to the lack of material on black working women.

Cited as “the single best survey of transformation of women's paid and unpaid work from the colonial period to the present” (AHR); the 2003 anniversary edition has been updated.

An excellent, very readable history of women's work in and out of the home.

Murolo, Priscilla, A.B. Chitty, and Joe Sacco (illus.). From the Folks Who Brought You the Weekend:

Von Drehle, David. Triangle: The Fire That Changed America. NY: Atlantic Monthly Press, 2003. This well-reviewed book has brought new attention and interest to the tragedy that was a turning point for organizing immigrant needle trade workers and instigating health and safety practices.

Wertheimer, Barbara Mayer. We Were There: The Story of Working Women in America. Phil.: Temple Univ. Press, 1977. The first readable history of working women in America, written when Barbara could not find a suitable text to use with union women. Barbara was also the founding spirit of the UCLEA Women's Summer Schools.

WEB SITES:

THE TRIANGLE FACTORY FIRE

http://www.ilr.cornell.edu/trianglefire
Excellent multimedia site created by the Cornell ILR Kheel Center and UNITE!; history, photographs, documents, oral histories, cartoons, research guide for high school students.

WOMEN'S HISTORY RESOURCES IN THE TAMIMENT LIBRARY

http://nyu.libguides.com/tamiment_womens_history
Online version of a guide to scholarly resources (books, records, videos, etc.), including a section on Internet resources.

WORKING WOMEN, 1870 – 1930 (Harvard University Libraries Open Collections Program)

http://ocp.hul.harvard.edu/ww/
Digital collection of books, pamphlets, photographs, and manuscripts from Harvard’s libraries “exploring women’s roles in the U.S. economy between the Civil War and the Great Depression”. Still in process, and growing.
WOMEN’S LABOR HISTORY – BIOGRAPHY

Alice Cook’s energy was legendary. She died at the age of 94, leaving behind a lifetime of labor organizing, education, and research. Cook spoke to NE Summer School sisters several times; each experience was inspiring.

Newest biography of Mary Harris “Mother” Jones, who was instrumental in the history of both the labor movement and late-19th-century America.

Highly praised biography of Perkins, who was instrumental in forming the New Deal policies that changed workers’ lives during the Great Depression and after.

There are several editions of the diaries of Charlotte Forten, writer, teacher, and anti-slavery activist.

Well-reviewed biography of Mary Harris Jones, fighter of rights for the mine workers.

Dr. Height talks about her life as a civil rights leader with power. You can also hear here discuss her memoir here: http://www.npr.org/templates/story/story.php?storyId=1292880

You know Genora Johnson Dollinger if you’ve seen the documentary With Babies and Banners; she helped create the Women’s Emergency Brigade and became one of the strike's leaders. Her labor activism continued after the strike, and this is her story.

In 1975, Kombluh directed an oral history project that recorded the "stories" of 54 union women pioneers. Their voices were direct, their stories inspiring and fascinating. This book presents 11 of these stories.

This excellent book explores Eleanor Roosevelt’s staunch and lifelong connection to the American labor movement.

The absorbing story of the labor and family lives of Rose Schneiderman, Fannia Cohn, Pauline Newman, and Clara Lemlich.

Excellent reference book on women's labor history.

A well-known historian, takes a new look at the life and the legend.

This biography rescues Hillman from the shadow of labor leader husband Sidney, and relates her limitless energy in union organizing, and civil rights activism.

A “young adult” book, informative and readable.

Springer lived an amazing life as a black woman active in the ILGWU and later the AFL-CIO. This study focuses on the latter part of her career. (Springer visited the N.E. Summer School several years ago.)

One of the few biographies of Sarah Bagley.
WOMEN’S LABOR HISTORY –
BREAD AND ROSES: THE 1912 LAWRENCE STRIKE

Books
A wealth of material has been published on the Lawrence Strike, the I.W.W., and this turbulent period in U.S. history. These titles give a good basic history of the strike or give insight into the roles of women in the strike and the textile mills. They should all be available through your local public library; if your library doesn’t have the title, request it through interlibrary loan.

Primarily a pictorial history of the Lawrence Strike. [out-of-print, check libraries.]

This book focuses on women’s participation in textile mill strikes, paying close attention to the women who rebelled against economic and gender hierarchies.

IWW organizer and talented orator, Gurley Flynn was a key figure in the Lawrence Strike and the inspiration for Joe Hill’s song “Rebel Girl”. Her autobiography covers her life up to 1926.

This book tells the story of the I.W.W., and includes one chapter about the Lawrence Strike. It’s a wonderful resource for Lawrence Strike songs such as “The Eight-Hour Song” and “In the Good Old Picket Line”.

This is a highly readable contemporary account of the strike, 46-pages long. Although published by an industrial association, the writer aims “to tell in a truthful manner the story of the great labor outbreak which convulsed Lawrence last winter”, and concludes that all sides could learn lessons from the events.

An engaging read outlining the rise and fall of the textile industry in New England, the amazing wealth produced for a select few families, and industry flight to the South to escape unions.

Available Free Online: http://www.archive.org/stream/cu31924054583020#page/n1/mode/2up

This government document includes striking statistics and details about the Lawrence Strike.

A vivid and thorough historical account of the strike for “bread”, a living wage, and “roses”, dignity.

Children’s Books

This book presents the struggles and commitment of the mill workers through the use of vivid photographs, well organized chapters, and a timeline. (160 pages, Ages 10+)

Kids on Strike! examines the role that young adults played in labor strikes throughout the 19th and 20th centuries. It includes one chapter on the Lawrence Strike. (208 pages, Ages 9+)

Online Videos

“Collective Voices” Bread and Roses Commemorative Video. View Free Online: http://www.massaflio.org/node/198811

This 20-minute video, created by the Mass. AFL-CIO in collaboration with the Lawrence Heritage State Park, is a good introduction to the strike and the conditions which gave rise to it. The video features original photographs and text taken from letters and testimonies of workers and employers.

The Path: Fall of the Pemberton; Online Tour of Lawrence, Mass. View Free Online: tourlawrence.org/

The Pemberton Mill collapse of 1860 is still considered one of the worst industrial accidents in U.S. history. Although predating the Lawrence strike by 52 years, many of the conditions that existed then still existed in 1912. This award-winning tour of the mill successfully uses historical and current footage to draw you into the Pemberton Mill story.

Bread & Roses Strike Centennial 2012/Lawrence History Channel (YouTube). Highlights and excerpts from events commemorating the Bread & Roses Textile Strike of 1912 in Lawrence, Massachusetts. View Online: http://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PL7878F338097BFEB3&feature=plcp

Podcasts

100 Years Later, Bread and Roses Strike Still Echoes http://radioboston.wbur.org/2012/01/12/bread-and-roses

From NPR’s Boston station, a radio program that looks at the Lawrence Strike and its relevancy to today’s struggles, including the Occupy movement. Features historians Ardis Cameron and Robert Farrant.

From WGBH, a briefer (10-minutes) interview with Robert Forrant about the Lawrence Strike.

Websites

Bread and Roses Centennial Exhibit
http://exhibit.breadandrosescentennial.org/
The Lawrence History Center and the Bread and Roses Centennial Committee created an online exhibit of the 1912 Lawrence Strike that includes maps, a timeline and an excellent historical portrayal of the local community. For information about the physical exhibit located at Everett Mill in Lawrence, Massachusetts, visit http://exhibit.breadandrosescentennial.org/node/76/

The Bread and Roses Centennial Committee
The central web site for the committee and its activities.

The Bread and Roses Heritage Committee
The Bread and Roses Heritage Festival, an annual Labor Day festival in Lawrence, has special meaning this year.

Web Sites Featuring Historical Documents and Music

Bread and Roses Song
http://unionsong.com/u159.html
James Oppenheim published the poem “Bread and Roses” in 1911 and it was turned into a song during the Lawrence strike. It was set to music in 1974 by Mimi Fariña and has been recorded by Judy Collins, John Denver and various other artists.

Camella Teoli Testifies About the 1912 Lawrence Textile Strike
http://historymatters.gmu.edu/d/61/
Fourteen year old millworker testifies before Congress about unsafe working conditions.

The Fighting Women of Lawrence
Margaret Sanger, a member of a committee that brought striker’s children to New York, writes a first-hand account of the process through which children left Lawrence during the strike.

The Lawrence Strike: A Study
http://www.theatlantic.com/past/docs/issues/12may/deland.htm
Written in 1912, this newspaper article in the Atlantic Monthly reflects on the importance of the Lawrence Strike.
Lawrence Textile Strike- Photographs
[http://ehistory.osu.edu/osu/mmh/1912/labor_problem/Lawrence.cfm]
This history website features many photographs of the Lawrence Strike.

Proclamation of the Striking Textile Workers of Lawrence.
[http://litlink.ket.org/ged/ss/unit1/proclamation.html]
Created by the workers in the IWW (Wobblies) in 1912, this proclamation calls attention to the desires for “decent and honorable lives” and “clean food” while protesting “starvation” wages and police brutality.

Remembering the Great Strike of 1912
These interesting articles are a great overview of the strike.

1912 Textile Strike Put Women in the Line of Fire
[http://www.apwu.org/laborhistory/08-2_breadandroses/08-2_breadandroses.htm]
Written by the American Postal Workers Union, this article explains some of the roles women played in the Lawrence Strike.

This section was compiled and written by Cathryn Miller.
A 48-page survey examining of young workers’ economic attitudes and hopes for the future.

In March 2010, the Berger-Marks Foundation sponsored a “cross-cultural, cross-generational two-day summit for women activists to help identify what turns young women on to unions and what turns them off”.

CAW sees local youth committees as entry points into the union for young workers. This 40-page handbook outlines best practices.

The Canadian Auto Workers introduced this 5-page discussion paper at its 2008 conference. It explores “the issues and challenges of the generational shift coming as younger workers begin to become more active in the CAW”, and talks about the CAW Youth Network.

Educause. Mentoring Kit. [http://www.educause.edu/mentoring]
There are many ways of developing a mentoring program. Educause, a nonprofit organization, describes different types of programs and gives resources for developing your own. Many of these programs are for higher education or IT organizations, but the ideas can be applied to unions.

This study looks at the issues facing young people and unions and how unions are seeking to organize and involve young workers and members.

Summarizes laws and regulations related to young people in the workforce, including relevant industries, with links to more comprehensive information

Young Workers Health and Safety Website [http://www.youngworkers.org/]
A project of the California Resource Network for Young Worker Health and Safety.
JOURNALS & NEWSLETTERS

Dollars and Sense. Bimonthly.
[29 Winter St., Boston, MA 02108, 617-447-2177, http://www.DollarsAndSense.org]
Explains U.S. and international current economic issues from a left perspective. Many articles on work and unions.

[LPWF, IIR, 2521 Channing Way #5555, Berkeley, CA 94720; 510-643-7088; http://www.working-families.org]
Newsletter of union activities and resources.

Labor Notes, Labor Education & Research Project. Monthly
[7435 Michigan Ave., Detroit MI 48210; (313) 842-6262; http://www.labornotes.org]
Articles from an activist viewpoint; useful Resources list.

New Labor Forum, Labor Resource Center, Queens College, CUNY. Biannually.
[LRC, Queens College, 25 West 43rd St., NYC 10036; 212-827-0200; http://www.newlaborforum.org/]
Articles, fiction, poetry, and discussion of contemporary work issues. Selected articles are available online.

Labor-oriented journal with readable articles on current, provocative issues by journalists & academics.
Music has always been an integral part of Summer School. If you would like to listen to "labor music" at home or at your union meetings (or in the office!), here are some suggestions, mostly women-oriented. You can purchase these CD’s from the Labor Heritage Foundation (see Sources section) or from CDBaby, an online distributor of independent music (http://www.cdbaby.com/home).

Linda Allen
Women's Work
Songs about women’s real work, from building ships to soothing the sick.

Brooklyn Women's Chorus
The Power of Song
Where Women Rule
Directed by our own Bev Grant, the Chorus sings songs of labor, peace and justice, many of which will be familiar to summer school alums. Web Site: http://www.brooklynwomenschorus.com/

Coal Mining Women
Re-release of songs by Hazel Dickens, Florence Reese, Phyllis Boyens, Sarah Gunning and others.

DC Labor Chorus
DC Labor Chorus– 2-song CD
Includes "Welcome Union Members" and "Health Care Stomp"
Songs of Freedom & Justice

Emma’s Revolution (Pat Humphries and Sandy O)
See web site to listen to or buy music: http://emmasrevolution.com/

Anne Feeney
Dump the Bosses Off Your Back
Have You Been to Jail for Justice?
Look to the Left
Union Maid
United We Bargain, Divided We Beg

Bev Grant
We Were There: Songs of Women’s Labor History
Relive Labor History Night with this CD: accompanying songbook.
For more from Bev, see her web site: http://www.bevgrant.com/index.html

Pat Humphries
Hands
Named for Humphries’ cover of Phil Ochs’ unreleased song. Includes No Sweat and We Were There.

Ella Jenkins
Ella Jenkins and a Union of Friends Pulling Together
Labor songs and recitations for children; wonderful for the under 6 set.
Tom Juravich
Out of Darkness
Songs from the United Mine Workers movie.

Charlie King and Karen Brandow
Puppet Town
Songs of political puppets, corporate rats, and ordinary people all over the world struggling to make it better.

Charlie King and Martha Leader
Steppin' Out
With We Just Come to Work Here and World Turned Upside Down.

New York City Labor Chorus
Hats Off to Labor
In Solidarity
15 songs, with Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee.
Workers Rise: Labor in the Spotlight
Features union songs as well as lively selections from gospel, jazz, classical, and folk traditions.

Pipets
- The chorus of the Harvard Union of Clerical and Technical Workers (AFSCME)
Gonna Build A Union

Smithsonian Folkways
We Just Come to Work Here, We Don't Come to Die
Songs of work and safety by Sweet Honey in the Rock, Laurel Blaydes, Anne Feeney, Joe Glazer, Larry Penn, and others.

Woody at 100: The Woody Guthrie Centennial Collection
A 150-page large-format book with 3 CDs containing 57 tracks, including Woody’s most important recordings such as the complete version of “This Land Is Your Land.”

And, just for fun, here are The 25 Best Work Songs:
FILMS & VIDEOS

These films are available from various sources, including Netflix, Amazon, and your public or labor library (if you don’t see it, ask the librarian to order it).

For more labor and work-related film titles, try:

Labor Film Database. http://laborfilms.com Over 1,000 films listed.

Labor Film Festival Database: http://laborfilms.com/category/a-labor-film-festivals/ Listing of labor film festivals around the world.

DC Labor Filmfest: http://www.dclabor.org/ht/d/ProgramDetails/i/23256/pid/46784 This annual film festival screens the latest and best.

Look Back: Labor and the Moving Image: http://lookbacklabor.blogspot.com/ A “curated online exhibit” featuring films and videos about and by organized labor. There is an interesting range of titles here, from current videos supporting union strikes to the 1954 blacklisted Salt of the Earth.

FILMS

American Dream. 1992, directed by Barbara Kopple. The story of the Hormel strike, by the Academy Award-winning director.

Bread and Roses. 2000, directed by Ken Loach. * The Justice for Janitors struggle is personalized in this engaging film with the fictional story of Maya, a newly arrived illegal immigrant, who joins up with an idealistic organizer and other workers to fight for better working conditions.

Clockwatchers. 1998, directed by Jill Sprecher, starring Parker Posey, Lisa Kudrow. Initially funny but finally disturbing film about the lives of temporary office workers.

Eyes on the Fries, Young Workers in the Service Economy. 2003, directed by Casey Peek. This short film examines the rise of the low-wage service sector and the young people who work in it. Some organizing efforts are shown, including the successful struggle to raise the minimum wage in SF. It can be ordered from the Berkeley Labor Center: http://laborcenter.berkeley.edu/youngworkers/

The Fight in the Fields: Cesar Chavez and the Farmworkers’ Struggle. Produced, directed, and written by Rick Tejada-Flores and Ray Telles; Paradigm Productions/PBS, 1997. This documentary “follows the first successful organizing drive of farm workers in the United States”. Includes footage of our own Jessica Govea Thornbourne.

La Ciudad (The City). 1998, Zeitgeist Films. This highly praised film tells four stories about recent illegal immigrants to New York City, giving insight into their hopes and struggles. Written & directed by David Riker; Spanish-language with English subtitles.

Life + Debt. 2001, directed by Stephanie Black, narration written by Jamaica Kincaid.
An unforgettable look at the poverty that lies behind the luxurious tourism of the island of Jamaica, and a dissection of the effect globalization has had on the workers and the economy.

The Life and Times of Rosie the Riveter. 1980, directed by Connie Field, distr. by Direct Cinema.
A wonderful history of the “Rosies” who worked in the factories during World War II and who were forced out when the men returned, told by five “Rosies”.

Live Nude Girls Unite! 2000, directed by Julia Query & Vicky Funari.
Query, a performance artist and former dancer, tells the story of a group of strippers in San Francisco who got fed up with their working conditions and formed the first Exotic Dancers Union.

Made in L.A. 2007, directed by Almudena Carracedo.
A documentary about three Latina immigrants, workers in Los Angeles garment sweatshops, who meet at the Garment Worker Center and campaign, for what turns out to be three years, for basic labor protections. Originally broadcast on public television (P.O.V.), this film can be purchased at http://www.madeinla.com/

Made in Dagenham 2010, directed by Nigel Cole, starring Sally Hawkins, Bob Hoskins, Miranda Richardson.
In 1968, women workers went out on strike over equal pay at the Ford Dagenham, Great Britain. This popular, well-reviewed film is a dramatization of that protest.

Matewan. 1987, directed by John Sayles.
A tale of the bitter clash between union and coal company, told with the beauty and simplicity of folk ballads. Shows the important roles women played in the mining community.

Newsies. 1992, directed by Kenny Ortega, starring Christian Bale.
A Disney film about early-20th century newsboys who organize (and sing while doing it). Good for helping kids understand the importance of solidarity.

Norma Rae. 1976, directed by Martin Ritt, starring Sally Field, Ron Leibman.
Based on the real-life story of Crystal Lee Sutton, a textile worker who joined forces with a labor organizer to unionize a Southern mill.

North Country. 2005, directed by Niki Caro, starring Charlize Theron, Frances McDormand.
A single mother takes a job in the coal mine to make a living wage, but finds that the female miners are abused and humiliated by the other workers. But when she sues for sexual harassment, the other women are too scared to join her.

Potiche. 2010, directed by Francois Ozon, starring Catherine Deneuve & Gerard Depardieu.
Catherine Deneuve as a housewife who unexpectedly needs to take over labor negotiations with Depardieu, the leader of the unionized workers in her husband’s umbrella factory.

Salt of the Earth. 1954, directed by Herbert Biberman.
Gripping story about the struggle of a New Mexican mining community for better working conditions, which explores roles of women, class, and human dignity. Film-makers themselves were blacklisted. (This film is available on various web sites.)
Schmatta: Rags to Riches to Rags, 2010, directed by Marc Levin.
This HBO Documentary is not available for distribution as of this writing, so hopefully you can see it at a film festival or on television. It is the story of what happened to the NYC garment industry, whittled down to nothing by automation and globalization. Labor figures prominently in the story.

Silkwood, 1983, directed by Mike Nichols, starring Meryl Streep, Cher.
The fictionalized story of Karen Silkwood, who struggled for safe working conditions at the nuclear plant where she worked, and was mysteriously killed.

Union Maids, 1977, directed by Julia Reichert, distr. by New Day Films, 48 min.
The fascinating stories of Sylvia, Kate, and Stella, who tell the way things really were back in the days when people risked their lives and jobs to organize trade unions. Interviews intercut with newsreel footage.

An award-winning documentary that weaves together the stories of three immigrants, illustrating how the global economy has forced immigrants to leave their home countries. It can be purchased from NNIRR.

We Are Wisconsin, The Film: This Is What Democracy Looks Like, 2012.
[http://wearewisconsininthefilm.com/]
The film asks the question “Why should we care about what’s going on in Wisconsin?,” on multiple levels, through an in-depth profile of six leading individuals central to the story.

The “untold story” of the Women’s Emergency Brigade, the working women, wives, mothers, sisters, who were the backbone of the 1937 Flint Sitdown Strike.

The story of the first working women’s “summer school” at Bryn Mawr College under the inspiring leadership of Hilda “Jane” Smith.
ORDERING INFORMATION & SOURCES FOR LABOR TITLES

To Order Books Online:

POWELL’S CITY OF BOOKS (unionized bookstore)
http://www.powells.com

AMAZON
http://www.amazon.com (largest inventory)

For Resources Cited in This List:

BEVGRANT.COM
http://www.bevgrant.com
Find out about Bev’s latest gigs here, and buy music by Bev and the Brooklyn Women’s Chorus.

Bloomberg BNA BOOKS
P.O. Box 7814, Edison, N.J. 08818-7814
1-800-960-1220 [http://www.bnabooks.com]
BNA (Bureau of National Affairs, Inc.) is the largest publisher of labor relations books in the U.S.

CDBABY
http://www.cdbaby.com
Small Oregon company that sells music by independent musicians.

CENTER FOR LABOR RESEARCH AND EDUCATION, UCLA
Box 951478, Los Angeles, CA 90095
310-794-5982; [http://www.labor.ucla.edu]

CINCO PUNTOS PRESS
1-800-566-9072 [http://www.cincopuntos.com/]

COALITION OF LABOR UNION WOMEN (CLUW)
1925 K Street NW, Suite 402, Washington, D.C. 20006
202-223-8360; getinfo@cluw.org [http://www.cluw.org]

HIGHLANDER RESEARCH AND EDUCATION CENTER
1959 Highlander Way, New Market, TN 37820
http://www.highlandercenter.org/ [click on “Highlander Bookstore”]

INSTITUTE FOR WOMEN’S POLICY RESEARCH (IWPR)
Publications
1707 L Street, NW, Suite 750, Washington, DC 20036.
202-785-5100; [http://www.iwpr.org]

THE LABOR HERITAGE FOUNDATION
815 16th Street NW, Washington, D.C. 20006
http://www.laborheritage.org/
Large selection of labor-related music (CD’s & audiotapes); also posters, buttons, and selected books, including children’s books, poetry, & novels.

LABOR NOTES
7435 Michigan Ave., Detroit, MI 48210
(313) 842-6262 (credit card sales only); [http://www.labornotes.org/]

LABOR OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH PROGRAM
University of California at Berkeley
2223 Fulton Street, Berkeley, CA 94720-5120
(510) 642-5507; [http://www.lohp.org]

LABOR PROJECT FOR WORKING FAMILIES
2521 Channing Way #5555, Berkeley, CA 94720
510-643-7088; [http://www.laborproject.org]

PROJECT SOUTH
9 Gammon Ave. Atlanta, Georgia 30315
404-622-0602 [http://www.projectsouth.org]

ROBERT McCONNELL PRODUCTIONS
4303 67th AVE NW
Gig Harbor, WA 98335
253-265-3184 OR 1-800-532-4017; [http://www.parli.com/]

STITCH
1525 Newton Street, NW,
Washington, DC 20010.
202-265-3790; [http://www.stitchonline.org/newsletter.asp]

UNION COMMUNICATIONS SERVICES, INC. (UCS)
165 Conduit St.
Annapolis, MD 21401
1-800-321-2545;
[https://ssl30.pair.com/unionist/ccp51/cgi-bin/cp-app.cgi]
Central ordering of labor books from a variety of publishers.

WORK RIGHTS PRESS
Box 391066
Cambridge MA 02139
1-800-576-4552, [http://www.workrightspress.com/]

copyright 2012, Donna L. Schulman